I wish to acknowledge the following persons for their assistance. For opening up the world of Southeast Asia to me and for supervising the thesis I would like to thank Prof. S. Arasaratnam of the Dept. of History of The University of New England. Mr F.W. Diehl of the Department of Economic History also provided interim supervision which was appreciated.

The English historian, D.G.E. Hall, once said that to become a Southeast Asian historian requires a lifetime of effort to obtain the pre-requisites. Having acquired the Indonesian and Javanese languages, there were still the documents of the Portuguese and Dutch which had to be translated. In this respect I wish to thank my various translators for their time and effort. For the Portuguese translations I am indebted to an East Timorese colleague, Drs. Rui Gomez, of Universitas Kristen Satya Wacana. Inez Rodriguez of the Reid Library, University of W.A. also made translations of some material.

For the Dutch translations I wish to thank firstly Mrs Tina Hatton, of Perth, for giving up so much of her time during several summers in translating some very large tracts and piles of assorted passages written in semi-literate 17th century Dutch. Secondly, Dr C. de Heer, formerly of The University of W.A., and Prof. Arasaratnam of The University of New England, translated some documents, for which I am grateful. Dr. Alfons van der Kraan of Murdoch University also made helpful translations of some passages.

The Chinese translations are in published form and are acknowledged in the body of the thesis.

The translations from the Javanese and Indonesian languages are my own work. For a critical reading of my translation of the Babat Ing Gresik, I am indebted to Drs. Pitono Hardjowardojo of Curtin University. A colleague from the Anthropology Department, University of W.A., Mr Suwono, also provided helpful comments on some passages. I would like to acknowledge the help of Drs. Soeroso of Universitas Kristen Satya Wacana who taught me the languages of Javanese historical literature, a pre-requisite for going beyond a purely European perspective. Any errors that remain in the translation are of course my own.

I acknowledge the help of Tjien Tjien Kho, of Universitas Kristen Satya Wacana, for introducing me to the culture and antiquities of the Javanese pasisir, for obtaining Javanese manuscript material when I was unable to, and for stilling the choppy waters of visa difficulties with a wave of her magic wand.

For financial assistance I would like to thank my parents for their continuous support and the Department of Economics of The University of W.A. which provided a much needed grant.
for inter-library loans as well as a part-time teaching position.

I certify that the substance of this thesis has not already been submitted for any degree and is not being currently submitted for any other degree. I certify that any help received in preparing this thesis, and all sources used, have been acknowledged in this thesis.
