

BIBLIOGRAPHY

This is arranged in the following sequential parts:

- I. Preamble and Description of Classification Used.
- II. List of Particular Periodicals consulted/read very closely.
- III. Details of official documents (including those early (Sydney) ones which relate to the Sydney University Extension Board, and the N.E.U.C.)
- IV. Details of A.E. related writings from (earlier) senior administrators, political figures and others in positions capable of influencing the New England a.e./extension effort.
- V. Official Departmental Publications.
- VI. Other/related 'Departmental' writings: by, and on, staff members; from visitors commenting on 'the Department'; and other connected publications.
- VII. Selected Publications by other campus-based/campus/associated providers. [Items are alphabetical]
- VIII. Federal and other Major Official Reports on Education, Society, etc.
- IX. Writings commenting on such Reports.
- X. General Australian and Australia-related materials.
- XI. General Bibliography.

I. Preamble and Description

This set of lists is neither selective, nor is it totally exhaustive - in view of the copious textual footnoting of more ephemeral items - but, rather is there offered a sectionalizing of the source materials which have seemed most significant, both during, and at the conclusion of, the writing of this history. Because of inadequate dating of many early 'Departmental' items, that bibliographical detail has had to contain a measure of inference.

The general categorization is a developing one, working: from the thoughts of the leaders of the institution; to the Departmental work; to other U.N.E. providers; and to the external reports of varying provenance which have, progressively, both modified and challenged the adult education provision from New England University College and from its successor, the University of New England.

The standard abbreviations, as listed earlier, are used here, with the additional acronyms for the following university presses, viz: M.U.P. (Melbourne); O.U.P. (Oxford); U.Q.P. (Queensland); S.U.P. (Sydney); and U.W.A.U.P. (Western Australia).

5. Discussion/Group Study Courses

While these began in the later 1950s, the style of the notes and range of topics has changed, particularly since the Dunton-devised standard format which commenced on 1 January 1967. Some of these (or somewhat later, but of similar format) which have been inspected/assessed include:

Aborigines and Education, Background Papers for Discussion Groups by K.R. McConnochie. January 1971.

Apathy or Education? ... Background Papers ... prepared by B.H. Durston. 1. January 1967.

Child Growth and Early Education ... K.R. McConnochie, Armidale - 1973.

Don't Let the Title Put You Off - play by R.C. Herbert [c. 1978].

The Feminine Mystique ... prepared by Joanna Hempel, January 1969.

Five Notable English Plays ... Professor Martin Day ... 1970.

Greek History and Literature ... M.N. Kelly. 1 January 1967.

Innovation and Flexibility in Education ... prepared by Susan Perrow and Gordon Lang, January 1974.

Pollution and the Quality of the Environment ... Dr. J. Walmsley, 1973.

Practical Painting ... George Clay 1974.

Preparation for Play Production* .. C. Kenny and H. Heseltine, 1 January 1967.

Race Relations in Australia ... K.R. McConnochie, January 1973.

The Self: Its Development and Predicaments ... Emeritus Professor Duncan Howie ... 1971.

Sense in Poetry* .. C.C. Clarke ... 1 January 1967.

*means much earlier course but revised in later 1966.

Many Group Study catalogues were inspected, some early ones offering many Sydney courses. From the later 1970s, the Group/Home Study Correspondence Programme was known as UNELEARN and was both supported financially and encouraged to develop by the N.S.W. Board of Adult Education.

The 1980 Catalogue listed as available 42 courses; that of 1983 had 41. To this list there would be added for the 'set year', and for a period thereafter, the country of study, e.g. Brazil (1979); Canada (1972); China (1983); Egypt (1973); Greece (1980); Israel (1967); Norway (1970); Pacific Islands (1975); Portugal (1981); Scotland (1982); U.S.A. (1976); etc.
